

RJ Reed

*Vice President, Project Delivery
Innovation | The Whiting-Turner
Contracting Company*

RJ Reed is a Vice President in the Tampa, Florida Whiting-Turner office, beginning with the firm in 2008. RJ was an architect in the Orlando area for 5 years after graduating from the University of Florida, where he met his wife, Kristen. His leadership has propelled him to the forefront of innovation, seamlessly integrating cutting-edge technology and lean methodologies to cultivate unparalleled team performance. RJ's influence extends far beyond the Sunshine State, leading Whiting-Turner's AI strategy corporately and lends his expertise to projects spanning the nation, perpetuating a legacy of excellence and advancement.