Cory Winter draws on his past experience working in the general counsel's office of a private college in representing colleges, universities, and other institutions of higher education. He has experience counseling these clients on issues such as Title IX claims and compliance with the Clery Act, FERPA and other legislative mandates. He also handles disputes that lead to complex commercial litigation in federal and state courts for clients in higher education, as well as for clients in other industries, including construction and hospitality.

In addition to his bar admission in Pennsylvania, Cory is admitted to practice in all three districts of the federal district courts in Pennsylvania and in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit.
