

JODIE MISIAK

Principal
WSP USA – Washington, D.C

Jodie Misiak is a principal in WSP's Alternative Delivery Advisory Services practice, where she specializes in assessment and implementation of appropriate innovative finance, alternative project delivery, procurement, program management and value capture strategies for state, regional, and local governments.

Before joining WSP, Ms. Misiak served as Senior Advisor at the U.S. Department of Transportation, leading the establishment of the department's Build America Bureau, which streamlines federal transportation finance programs and enhances USDOT's innovative finance outreach and capacity building for state and local governments, including best practices in public-private partnerships and value capture. Previously, she served as Director of Innovative Project Delivery at the Maryland Department of Transportation, where she led implementation of the department's public-private partnership program, policies, procurements and projects, including the recent Purple Line Light Rail Transit public-private partnership and the I-95 Travel Plazas public-private partnership.

Prior to her work in the public sector, Ms. Misiak held roles in municipal debt finance and management consulting, supporting state and local government clients with strategic planning and complex financial transactions. She received her Master in City Planning and Master of Science in Transportation from Massachusetts Institute of Technology and her BA in International Studies from The Johns Hopkins University.
