John Heurich advises companies on a wide range of deals and corporate matters, including domestic and cross-border mergers and acquisitions, business formation and restructuring, and corporate governance. He also has experience with private equity and securities offerings, IP licensing, commercial real estate transactions, and cybersecurity and data privacy matters. Companies rely on John for advice on legal issues arising in their daily operations, such as commercial contracts, as well as those connected to strategic transactions that support their growth, including capital raises, corporate restructurings and commercial real estate acquisitions. John provides these services to clients in industries ranging from retail, manufacturing and technology to commercial real estate and construction.

John also has experience negotiating and drafting:

- stock and asset purchase agreements
- ancillary documents
- letters of intent
- operating agreements and other corporate formation documents
- IP licensing agreements
- master supply agreements
- management agreements
- noncompete agreements
- nondisclosure agreements
- real estate sale agreements
- loan agreements and mortgages
- security agreements
- promissory notes
- private placement memoranda and securities filings under Regulations A and D

Prior to his work in private practice, John was a law clerk for the Honorable President Judge Thomas R. Dobson of the Court of Common Pleas in Mercer County, Pennsylvania.
